The Local Government Ethics Law in New Jersey establishes standards of conduct for local government officials and employees to promote ethical behavior and prevent conflicts of interest. It requires adherence to specific ethical guidelines and provides mechanisms for reporting violations

Overview of the Local Government Ethics Law

This law is crucial for maintaining integrity in local governance.
PURPOSE - The law aims to ensure ethical conduct among local government officials and employees.

SCOPE - It applies to all local government officers and employees not covered by other ethics codes.

COMPLAINTS - Allegations of violations must be submitted in writing and signed by the complainant.

ENFORCEMENT - The law includes provisions for investigating complaints and enforcing ethical standards.

This webinar will look at recent developments, cases and oversight of local government ethics.

Presenter:
Dr. Susan Jacobucci, Esquire, Former Director of the DLGS
